CHRISTMAS. - By to-morrow another Christ mas will have come, with its hopes and itsregrets. Let the young people make the most of it, for as the years roll on with inc easing swiftness the joyous season at each recurrence will be more and more marred by aspirations that have expired without fruition and by the taded shadows of things that might have been. So let all the stockings be hung up, and let Christmas Nick fill them full of toys and "good things," and let powder be exploded in every conceivable manner and in as large quantity as possible, for childhood deprived of its pleasures | 8:15 p. m. feels a pang as great as maturer age when its erjoyments are withheld. To a materialist this Christmas must be particularly agreeable. for it secures him two good dinners and two days of rest. To an idealist it would seem to be equally enjoyable, for he will have forty eight instead of twenty-four hours in which he and his imagination can revel. But to all, whether of Paul or Apollos, a happy Christmas!

INTERRUPTION TO TRAVEL. - In consequence of the ice in the river, navigation for sailing vessels was entirely interrupted to day. Sceamers, however, managed to force their way through the obstruction, but with considerable difficulty. The first ferry boat from Washington did not reach here until nearly 9 o'clock, but after that the trips were made iregularly. The mai boat from Aquia Creek due here at 4 this morning did not arrive until 9, and the mail boat from Washington that should have passed here at 72 this morning had not arrived at 12 to day. AN INTERESTING INCIDENT. - Yesterday, after Miss Ellen Mark's school had been closed or the holidays, the pupils and their teachers proceeded to the Female Orphan Asylum, followed by a porter bearing their annual contributions to the inmates of that institution. The baskets contained a bountiful supply of "Christmas thiogs," and the hearts of the little ones place, up stairs. Respectfully, WM. A. BAGLEY & CO., who have no homes of their own and no mothers to provide for them were made glad as the cakes and turkeys and sweeatmeats and confections, enough for a whole week, were delivered, in their presence, to their matron. For a number of years Miss Mark's CLOVERSEED, school has made an annual Christmas present to the Orphan Asylum, and many who once made their contributions as pupils now send them as mothers of little girls as old as those by whom they are received.

I. O. OF ODD FELLOWS .- The Culteper Observer says: A ledge of this time-honored institution will be organized in this place, on Saturday, the 31st instant. A large delegation will be here from Alexandria, Washington and Richmond, to assist us in opening. Among them, we are glad to say, will be F. D. Stuart, Grand Sire of the U. S.; Hugh Latham, Mayor of Alexandria, and Past Grand Master; C. A. B. Coffroth. of Winchester Grand Master of the State; Wm. Kettler? Grand Master of the District of Columbia.

THE WEATHER.-Autumn lingered in the lap of winter tolerably long this year, but when the rebuff came it was given with a vengeance. eity for many years. Though the wind was blowing a galactic Research of the Potential blowing a gale, the Potomac frez over from shore to shore, and many water pipes and pitchers were broken by the freezing of their contents. The temperature to day, too, has been intensely cold.
